

Why Support Sacred Heart of Jesus?

Sacred Heart of Jesus School is Boulder's only preschool-through-8th-grade Catholic school. For 125 years we have partnered with parents—the primary educators of their children—to form confident, kind, and capable young people rooted in faith, character, and academic excellence.

Catholic schools receive no financial support from the federal, state, or local government. To keep a high-quality Catholic education accessible to Boulder families, we intentionally charge less than half the tuition of other private schools in the area. We are fully funded by the generous support of our alumni, parishioners of Sacred Heart of Jesus Church, and partners and benefactors like you.

It is only through these partnerships that we are able to sustain this mission—providing rigorous academics in small classes, forming children in honesty, respect, and perseverance, and building a warm community where every child is known and loved.

Your gift makes this possible. Unrestricted support through the Hearts United Fund gives us the flexibility to meet opportunities and challenges as they arise, ensuring Sacred Heart remains a place where faith illuminates learning and community bears witness to Christ's love for generations to come.
